

Ontario pushes ahead with plans for controversial Oakville condo project that stands to benefit developer friend of Doug Ford

The province has proposed minister's zoning orders to greenlight the building of 11 skyscrapers on a plot the size of the Rogers Centre.

© Updated 10 mins ago | Dec. 8, 2025 | ⌚ 4 min read | 📌 🎁 🔄 💬 (81)

An illustration of the province's original November 2024 plan for the transit-oriented community near Oakville GO station. The province slightly revised the proposal a year later, lowering the tallest building height to 56 storeys.

McKenna Hart

By Sheila Wang Investigative Reporter